ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S REPORT.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
TRENTON, New Jersey, January 1, 1849. }

The Adjutant-General most respectfully reports: that within the last year, no improvement has come under his observation in the practical organization of the militia of the state, especially in the brigade returns required by law.

The condition of the volunteer corps generally, and the importance of that valuable body, particularly recommend them to the favorable consideration of the legislature, who would do well to provide a fund for their support and encouragement.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

T. CADWALADER.

Adjutant-General N. J. M.

To His Excellency,

DANIEL HAINES.

Gov'r, &c., &c.
